MRS. C. HAMLIN DIES

Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin passed away last week at her winter home in Albany, New York. She was in her 90th year. Early this year, at her birthday celebration, she received a telegram of congratulations from the late President John Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin spent their summers in Mattapoisett for many years. Mr. Hamlin served as Assistant Secretary of the United Sates Treasury and was first governor of the Federal Reserve Board. He died in 1938.

Mrs. Hamlin is treasured in Mattapoisett for countless acts of personal kindness and for her constant public efforts in behalf of the town. In 1904, she founded the Mattapoisett Improvement Association and served as president for 50 years. Through these years and into the present the Association has been responsible for many services to the town. The collection of rubbish and garbage was started through its efforts. Mrs. Hamlin suggested the first dental clinic at the school, the district nurse and that a Boy Scout organization be started.

At the pageant, during the Mattapoisett Centennial Celebration, Mrs. Hamlin was seated in the place of honor as the greatful town recognized her valuable contributions with a presentation.

Mrs. Hamlin was a member of the Mattapoisett Grange. She was prominent in Democratic circles locally. For many years, she entertained the Center School faculty at teas in her Ned's Point home.

Mrs. Hamlin had a great influence in the shaping of Mattapoisett. Every history of the town will honor this lady and her gracious force for good. D.C.J.

ORRHS HOLDS HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTION

The third annual Honor Society Induction was held recently in the Gilbert D. Bristol Memorial Auditorium at Old Rochester Regional High School.

The service was opened by Esther-Ann Chamberlain by quoting the words of John Mason Brown -- "You can best serve the course of common man by developing what is exceptional in you rather than worshiping what is average... The individual by his qualities rather than the lack of them, guarantees the integrity of the group." She then led the assembly in the salute to the flag.

Harriet Avery, president of the Society, welcomed the group with these words, "It is the recognition and encouragement to those students of great potential qualities and talents. We hope that you will enjoy both your visit to our school and the installation of our new Honor Society members. So that you may realize just what is entailed in becoming [illegible]mber of the Honor Society, the members 1964 Honor Society will present our ideals."

Ann Figueiredo lighted the candle of Scholarship from the torch of Truth, saying, "This yellow candle signifies scholarship; the chief aim of our organization which we hope to develop within ourselves and stimulate in others, not forgetting the insignificance of our own attainments as compared to the vast knowledge of the worlds' scholars."

Clark Springgate, vice-president, lighted the candle of Character, saying, "The combination of qualities favorably distinguish an individual. Good character requires careful judgments on issues of morality, citizenship, and honor and is determined by the attitudes and activities a student has toward his school, his family and his country."

Susan Savery, secretary, lighted the candle of Leadership, saying, "This blue candle signified Leadership. To be worthy leaders we must develop in ourselves qualities which will cause others to trust our integrity and benefit through our judgment."

Susan Hawkins, treasurer, lighted the candle of Service, saying, "This red candle symbolizes service. Through service we show our dedication to our school, community, church and country. We prove our unselfishness by offering help to those around us who can bene-

Janice Lawrence, accompanied by Miss Nancy McRae at the piano, sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Mr. Joseph Kunces, Superintendent of Schools, spoke to the assembly. He acknowledged the fact that of all his duties he enjoyed those pertaining to this type of activity best. Mr. Kunces then gave the students two ways of getting on top of an oak tree. The first way was to reach out and grab a branch, and pull yourself up. This way requires much stamina, hard work and knowledge of what you are doing, and diligent application. The other way was to plant an acorn into the ground, sit on the acorn and wait for the oak tree to grow. He asked the people to thing of the two methods of climbing to the top of the oak tree, and said that if there is a desire for something, hard work will make it obtainable.

Quoting the words of Plato; "What is honored is cultivated," Mr. Gavin, principal of Old Rochester Regional High School, presented the new members with their framed certificates, identification cards and official pins of the National Honor Society.

GRANGE MEETING

The highlight of Mattapoisett Grange last Thursday night was the altar ceremony where Mrs. Emily Brightman, a member of the assembly of Demeter of the National Grange, presented George C. Bradley, Jr. with a 50-year jewel and a 50-year golden sheaf certificate for his 50 years of continued membership in the Grange. Mrs. Bradley pinned the jewel on her husband. Mr. Bradley is a past steward and member of the men's degree team as well as a faithful worker in many ways.

Reports were given by Mrs. Ruby Barber on the first Thursday afternoon card party towards her two-year project of painting the outside front of the Grange Hall. She also reported Manuel Nunes, Jr. a patient at Tobey Hospital, Wareham.

Mrs. Brightman spoke briefly and compared the difference in presenting Grange work between Florida and Massachusetts even though it is from the same ritual.

Mrs. Lee Root was pianist for the evening. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Furtado and Mrs. Edward Toolis. A games party concluded the evening.

GIRL SCOUT EXHIBITS

Girl Scouts in Mattapoisett are celebrating the fifth-second birthday of scouting this week by exhibiting some of their activities at the Town Library and the Center School. There are three age groupings in the exhibits which represent the stages of a girl's development.

Brownie Scout activities appeal to the imagination, curiostiy and the need-to-be needed of the 7 and 8 year olds. Junior Scouts (9, 10 and 11) want to make and do more things on their own, to explore and experiment. The exhibit for these two groups is at the Center School in the showcase.

As young adolescents, Cadette Scouts (12, 13 and 14) are becoming more aware of themselves as individuals; they begin to examine values, to seek their own identity through wider social relationships and expanded interests. The exhibit of achievements of this group are on display at the Town Library.

The public is cordially invited and urged to view these exhibits through Friday of this week.

Marion's Heart Fund Drive is nearing its goal and it is certain, says Mrs. Lipsitt, heart fund chairman, this will be accomplished as always. "We trust Marion will go over the top as it has in the past". Therefore, if each and every home where envelopes were left while folks were out on Heart Sunday would mail in their contributions to the chairman, they will be helping themselves as well as their dear ones in conquering or remedying this frightful killer of heart ailments, by supporting this vast medical research project of the heart. Don't forget "your heart fund
